Record Number Expected to Apply for Class of 2017

The search for the Class of 2017 has begun with the November 1, 2012 Early Action deadline to be followed by the Regular application deadline of January 1, 2013. Southern California had a record number of applicants for last year's Class of 2016 with approximately 2,570 applicants, of which approximately 300 applied in the Early Action period. William Fitzsimmons AB '67, EdM '69, EdD '71, Dean of Admissions for Harvard College, commented, "We are expecting a similar number of applicants for the Class of 2017 as we had last year, and alumni interviews are so helpful to the Admissions Committee in the decision making process." Dean Fitzsimmons also added, "I expect the Class of 2017 to be the best class ever!"

Last year, interviewers from around Southern California met with virtually all of the applicants from our area, providing Admissions with insights and viewpoints essential in putting together the Class of 2016. The Harvard Club is always in need of alumni interviewers and if you are interested, please contact Dan Medina, Vice President of Schools and Scholarships, at dan@capknowledge.com.

RECENT EVENTS...

80 Alumni Attend Event With Harvard Provost Garber - October 24th

80 Harvard alumni and guests attended an interactive event with Alan M. Garber AB '76, AM '77, PhD '82, the Harvard University Provost, that was held at the Intercontinental Hotel in Century City. The event, which was Professor Garber's first major Harvard Club event, was jointly sponsored by the Harvard Alumni Association, the Harvard Club of Southern California, and Harvardwood.

Professor Garber participated in a conversation on stage with Harvard Alumni Association Executive Committee Vice President Cynthia Torres AB '80, MBA '84, who moderated the event. Garber discussed the goals of Harvard's new edX initiative, the promotion of teaching and learning at Harvard, the increasingly collaborative nature of the University, the future of the arts at Harvard, library reform, and Harvard's role in the world.

Garber revealed that he is serving as the Harvard Provost, the University's Chief Academic Officer, although he had never previously served as a Dean. He believes that his lack of administrative experience is a strength, since he described himself as feeling very close to the experiences of research faculty. When asked what he had learned during his 25-year career as a Stanford faculty member that Harvard needed to know, Garber responded, "Collaboration."

Beverly Hills Art Show October 21st

On Sunday, October 21, 2012 Harvard Club members and alumni enjoyed 4 blocks of fine art and crafts at the Beverly Hills Affaire In the Gardens Art Show. Several Harvard Alumni met at the Wine

Garden located inside the ArtShow to visit with one another, taste some wine, and enjoy the sounds of acoustic Latin jazz guitar. The Wine Garden functioned as a meeting hub for those who attended the event to enjoy over 250 exhibitors who featured paintings, photographs, sculptures, drawings, mixed media and watercolors. Overall, the group enjoyed a lovely afternoon discussing art and enjoying great food.

Daniel A. Medina Receives Hiram Hunn Award

Daniel A. Medina AB '79, MBA '83, the Harvard Club of Southern California's Immediate Past President, was awarded the Harvard College Admissions Office's highest honor, the Hiram Hunn Award, in a ceremony in Cambridge on September 28. The Hiram Hunn Award was presented by William R. Fitzsimmons AB '67, EdM '69, EdD '71 during the Annual Cambridge Admissions Conference. Fitzsimmons acknowledged Dan's longstanding and loyal service in aiding the Club's Schools Committee work, outreach, and leadership in alumni interviewing on behalf of the Admissions Office.

Dan started working with the Schools Committee in 1989. He has personally interviewed more than 150 applicants. He served as Central Los Angeles Area Chair for nine years beginning in 2001, before becoming President of the Harvard Club of Southern California in 2010. Dan now serves as Vice President of the Club's Schools Committee, overseeing eight areas, more than 900 alumni interviewers, and more than 2,600 interview requests annually.

Reflecting on his years working with the Admissions Office, Dan notes that although much has changed, especially the financial aid initiative which has enabled Harvard to attract a wider range of candidates, "what remains unchanged is the hard work and dedication it takes to make each class the best class ever."

Previous HCSC recipients of the Hiram Hunn Award include Jonathan Baskin AB '61, Dan's immediate predecessor as Schools Committee Vice President, and Jody Siegler AB '79, MBA '83, former West Los Angeles Schools Committee Area Co-Chair.
