Harvard Serves: Alumni Urged to Volunteer During April's Month of Public Service

In April the global Harvard community, including alumni, staff, friends, family, and students, is invited to participate in a public service initiative. Inspired by Harvard President Drew Faust's exhortation to apply "our knowledge to help advance the well-being of people in the world beyond our walls," the Harvard Club of Southern California will spearhead public service efforts locally through our new Community Service Committee chaired by HAA Elected Director Liz Ryan AB '81.

Harvard Serves. The public service initiative, called "Harvard Serves," hopes to mobilize all 330,000 Harvard alumni and the extended Harvard family - including 12,500 of us in Southern California - to volunteer our time and efforts in our own communities. The Harvard Alumni Association (HAA) is coordinating public service projects globally.

John Harvard Award Recipient:
David W. Oxtoby AB '72
President of Pomona College

David W. Oxtoby AB '72, President of Pomona College and member of the Harvard Board of Overseers, will be this year's recipient of the Club's John Harvard Award for Distinguished Community Service.

Under President Oxtoby's leadership, Pomona College has been ranked one of the top 10 best managed colleges in the nation. The Princeton Review ranks Pomona College #1 nationally as offering "the best classroom experience." Oxtoby has launched initiatives in sustainability - including integrated academic and campus planning, and an office of sustainability - and carried out renovations of several historic campus buildings. Pomona's financial aid program is regarded as one of the most generous in the nation.

David Oxtoby grew up in Bryn Mawr, PA, and graduated summa cum laude from Harvard College with an AB in Chemistry and Physics. He received his Ph.D. in Chemistry from UC Berkeley. Prior to being named Pomona's 9th President, he served as Dean of the Division of Physical Sciences at the University of Chicago. He and his wife, Claire, have three children.

To date 21 Harvard Clubs around the world have reported they will be holding events in April. For more information on the HAA's national and international events in public service during April, email harvardserver@post.harvard.edu or visit <http://www.alumni.harvard.edu/haa/events/global-month-service>

Get Involved in Public Service! Our energetic local alumni have organized projects in 18 non-profit organizations throughout our region, offering a plethora of opportunities to volunteer during the month of April and beyond. Whatever your skill, and wherever your neighborhood, we've got a volunteer activity for you. See pages 4 and 5 for further details.

Register to participate in these projects through our club website, <http://www.harvard-la.org>, after March 8, 2010.

Kick-Off Event on March 25: We are currently planning a kick-off event for the evening of Thursday, March 25, 6-9 PM. See www.harvard-la.org to register and for more details. We invite you to join us. Meet up with classmates, fellow alumni, and representatives of the 18 organizations offering opportunities to volunteer in an exciting range of projects: from ecological to educational, to food delivery, to inner-city youth, to music in underserved communities. One lucky attendee will win the door prize of a week's membership in Sports Club LA. If you are unable to attend the kick-off and would still like to volunteer, please sign up at www.harvard-la.org after March 8, 2010.

Purchase a "Harvard Serves" t-shirt now to wear during your service.

White cotton t-shirts are available for purchase through the Harvard Coop, sizes S to XXL, for $16.00. Purchase your ticket here:

http://store.thecoop.com/harv_alumnistore/servlet/com.bst.servlets.EStoreWebControlServlet?object=EStoreProductSelection&method=getProductInfo&productuno=29981

Get On the Map! To stay connected and watch our progress throughout April, register your interest at <http://onthemap.harvard.edu/>. Updates on "Harvard Serves," the April Month of Public Service Project, will be sent to you automatically. This web application, which will go live on April 1, will leverage social tools such as Google maps and Facebook Connect to enable alumni and students to connect, share resources, expertise, career advice, and opportunities related to their public service involvement.

HAA Public Service Trips: The Harvard Alumni Association has organized two week-long trips this spring in partnership with the Phillips Brooks House Association's Shared Interest Group. Join fellow Harvard alumni in helping to rebuild the City of New Orleans from March 14 - 21. Or participate with fellow alumni in constructing a home in an underserved neighborhood of Jackson, Mississippi, in which Metro Jackson Habitat for Humanity is building much-needed affordable housing, from April 5 - 11. For further information on these service trips, please see <http://alumni.harvard.edu/haa/travel/trips/neworleans> or <http://alumni.harvard.edu/haa/travel/trips/jackson>.

Lee Nadler, MD '73

Lee M. Nadler, MD '73, Virginia and D.K. Ludwig Professor of Medicine and Dean for Clinical and Translational Research at Harvard Medical School, has spent the past 30 years at HMS as a clinical and translational investigator, physician, and leader. He is Senior Vice President of Experimental Medicine at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute (DFCI) and Director of the DFCI Center for Clinical and Translational Research. Dr. Nadler is also the Director of Harvard Catalyst, an interdisciplinary, pan-Harvard University health research organization that brings faculty, post-doctoral fellows, clinical trainees, and graduate students from across the University together to attack human illness.

Larry Turka, MD

Larry A. Turka, M.D. recently joined the Harvard Medical Community as Co-Director of the Transplant Institute and Division of Transplant Immunology at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center and visiting Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School. Prior to these appointments, Dr. Turka was C. Mahlon Kline Professor of Medicine, Professor of Pediatrics and Pathology, and Chief of the Renal-Electrolyte and Hypertension Division at the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Turka received his MD degree from the Yale University School of Medicine, and trained in Internal Medicine at Yale-New Haven Hospital. He is one of the country's leading nephrologists and immunologists.

An Exclusive Visit to Noah's Ark at the Skirball

Bring the whole family for an exclusive Harvard Club experience of Noah's Ark, the Skirball Cultural Center's innovative and utterly unique destination for children and families, which won the 2008 Excellence in Exhibition award from the Association of American Museums. Climb aboard a giant wooden ark amidst hundreds of whimsical, life-size animals made of found and repurposed materials, and help bring to life the ancient tale of storms, arks, and rainbows. Join Noah's Ark Project Director and Skirball Director of Education Sheri Bernstein (Harvard MA, 1991) and other Harvard families in "conducting" a storm using sound devices and handheld instruments, helping to construct the ark, loading animals up the ramp, climbing up to the rafters, building nests, and much, much more.

Please meet in Skirball Main Lobby at 10:00AM
 Skirball contact: Sheri Bernstein, sberstein@skirball.org

Education Roundtable: Performance-Based Learning at Barack Obama Charter School

In 1995, Chugach School District was one of the lowest performing school districts in Alaska. New leaders introduced a novel education program that featured advancing students at their own rate based on their performance level, not their grade level. By 2001 Chugach was the highest performing school district in Alaska and one of the first two school districts in the nation to win the Baldrige Award, the nation's highest award for organizational excellence.

Glenn Noreen, MBA '82, is the Executive Director of Barack Obama Charter School (<http://www.barackobamacharter.org/>), which is based on the Chugach model. At this roundtable, Glenn will present the performance-based learning program design and report on his recent trip to Kunskapsskolan (<http://www.kunskapsskolan.se/foretaget/inenglish.4.1d32e45f86b8ae04c7fff213.html>) in Sweden. Kunskapsskolan is operating 33 performance-based voucher schools and is opening two schools in Britain this fall. This education roundtable is free and will begin with a potluck lunch.

Date: Saturday, March 20, 2010
Time: 12:30 - 3:00 P.M
Location: Barack Obama Charter School, 1726 East 117th Street, Los Angeles
Cost : Free (bring an item for the potluck lunch; drinks & utensils provided)
